

BIOGRAPHY + EXPERTISE

SHELLI HENDRICKS, EXECUTIVE COACH

Shelli has been an Educational Consultant for 20 years, offering services as a seasoned trainer, executive coach, and strategic business partner. As a Professional Certified Coach, she has worked with leaders in Fortune 500 companies across multiple industries.

At Chevron, Shelli managed the global Executive Coaching practice as well as leadership development programs for experienced supervisors and high potential emerging leaders. She served as a change management consultant in the Gulf of Mexico during times of strategic organizational transformation.

Prior to this she was responsible for McAfee's high potential director development, corporate compliance training, social learning for leadership development, and global employee engagement survey administration.

During her nine years at EMC Corporation (now Dell), she built a regional learning function for the West Coast workforce, and developed programs for executive assimilation, assessment and coaching. In addition, Shelli developed change management programs to enable employee assimilation and integration through 40 company acquisitions over a five-year period.

Her expertise includes coaching leadership competencies, change leadership, program measurement, and corporate social responsibility. Shelli is a highly competent speaker with a firm grasp on her subject matter.
