To Whom it May Concern,

Merlyn Clark was been the facilitator of a Change Your World Transformation Table (via ZOOM) that I recently completed. This was a six-week program with three participants (including me) and I found both her facilitation and coaching to be excellent in every possible way. Merlyn's ability to bring the group together (even though we were geographically distant), to build relationship with us and to help us build relationship with each other was a blessing. I have grown as a result of her mentoring, coaching and encouragement and I sincerely recommend her to all who are looking for someone to assist in the development of their relationship or leadership skills.

Sincerely,
