

A LEADERSHIP PARABLE

riding the waves without getting wet

MIKE HOURIGAN | KATHLEEN SMITH

*“...captured the essential attributes of leadership...
Once you start reading you won’t want to put it down”*

Nancy Lauterbach, Founder, FIVE Star Speakers; Past
President, International Association of Speakers Bureaus

“... a leadership fable worth the investment!”

Jennie McClaren , Senior Vice President,
People Development, Life Care Centers of America

“...required reading for my leaders.”

Alan Kneale, Director, Technical Support Center,
Cardinal Health

“...thought provoking, clear, and interesting all the way...”

Robert Giacalone, PhD., Professor of Human Resource Management, Fox School of Business, Temple University

“A parable for leaders or those who aspire to be, Riding the Waves forces you to reflect on what kind of person you are or want to be and that choice is within all of us.”
