Mildura's newest policewoman, Sen Constable Carolyn Pethick, is more than well-equipped to handle the rigors of police work in Sunraysia.

Having come from the hustle and bustle of Russell Street police headquarters in Melbourne, Sen Constable Pethick said she was looking forward to the challenge of her new job.

"I have never been to the country before, but I like the clean air up here and the people seem to be more friendly," she said.

In Melbourne, Sen Constable Pethick was assigned to the Detective Security Group, involved in witness and VIP protection.

She is now stationed with the Policewomen's Division of Mildura Police and will work on cases of domestic violence, sexual abuse of children, rape and incest.

"I understand child abuse is a big problem here so it will certainly keep me busy," she said.

"I prefer doing this sort of work, but I will still look forward to doing general police duties when the occasion arises."
