Keynote Speaker

Rome is consistently rated as a dynamic speaker who lifts the energy in the room, delivering thought-provoking stories that make a difference! A powerful presence for an opening or closing speaker to set the tone for your event, and a memorable experience for a group that's hard to please. (45-75 min)

Team Meetings

Rome shines in team building sessions for sales contributors and leadership retreats. Rome uses improv, role play, group competition and games to break down the walls of apathy and insecurity, to create an environment that breeds trust, passion and commitment that will permeate your company culture. (half-to-full day workshops available)

Executive & Advanced Sales Coaching

This program for high-value employees teaches the skills and habits of elite sales leaders and performers. Rome is an IFC Certified Executive Coach, through the Coach Diversity Institute in Washington D.C. who teaches employees how to lead without a title. This program helps leaders develop and improve their coaching skills to lead and motivate others to success. Ideal for organizations who need to develop executive talent, and corporate retreats for award winning performers. (program designed to fit client need)

The Sales Elite book reveals the common skills and habits that superstar sales pros leverage to consistently outperform their peers. Even if you don't sell for a living, you will greatly benefit from the principles in this book because:

People buy YOU

before they buy anything else you have!

This book will uncover how elite sales people out sell, out maneuver and outsmart the competition, and give you greater confidence to make it work for you! Bulk order discounts available for sales meetings and associations.
