

Praise for Bryant K. Smith

“Bryant Smith's book is a needed read as it tells the story of how one black man has navigated life in America as a scholar, but while understanding that the prison-industrial complex is always a threat. It is an open and honest look at what happens when you choose to not tolerate or capitulate to systemic racism. Smith shows that being unapologetically black is not just a slogan, but a life affirming strategy.”
-LAWRENCE ROSS, Author Blackballed: The Black and White Politics of Race on America's Campuses

“Mr. Smith shares his vulnerability as a black man living in the U.S. and the psychological acrobatics one must display in order to stay sane, progress, and release the rage.”
-Dr. TASHIA BRADLEY Senior Vice President for Student Development, Wilberforce College

“Privilege is something that by definition, one is not aware of until an alternate perspective is made available. In #BlackNotBlind Bryant Smith shares his experiences in a way that made me aware of some of the privileges I am afforded simply by being a white woman in America.”
-ANGELA Mitchell, Dean of Student Success Illinois Central College

"#BlackNotBlind is essential reading for those seeking to understand race and ethnicity in the contemporary U.S. Smith Combining a highly readable collection of engaging personal narratives with his own brand of razor sharp critical analysis, Smith delivers a truly unique perspective on race and diversity in higher education, politics, popular culture, and criminal justice. Once I picked the book up I simply couldn't put it down.”
- Dr. CHENJERAI KUMANYIKA, Assistant Professor of Journalism & Media Studies Rutgers University

Bryant K. Smith is an expert in identifying, cultivating, and maximizing human potential. For more than two decades Bryant has been at the forefront of assisting business, athletic, and educational institutions train, inspire, and develop their employees, athletes, and students.

U.S. $21.95
Canada $25.95

#BlackNotBlind

Bryant K. Smith

Special Anniversary Edition
Complete With New Chapters

#BLACKNOTBLIND

Critical Observations In Crucial Times

Bryant K. Smith

