

Parchment Short Introduction

Joy Parchment is an executive nurse leader whose sole purpose is to unleash the brilliance of nurse leaders to excel in their role so they can build transformative work cultures where nurses thrive.

A difference maker, a tenacious catalyst for change, and a decisive yet strategic minded decision maker, Dr. JP is your workforce culture architect.

With over 25 years of nursing leadership and nursing education expertise in the acute care, ambulatory, and academic settings, today, Dr. JP offers a range of keynote and seminar programs, individual and group coaching, and consulting services to healthcare professionals.

Dr. JP is an author of a book chapter in a nursing leadership textbook, journal articles focused on nurse leader workforce, nursing practice, nursing environment, and organizational learning. She is a certified speaker, trainer, coach, and behavior analysis trainer with the John Maxwell Team and an adjunct nursing faculty with a local university.

Please join me in welcoming to the podium, your chief excellence officer and workforce culture architect, Dr. JP.
