Pursue Your Success with Blind Ambition

GET TO KNOW CHAD FOSTER

As an award-winning business leader, international keynote speaker, and author of Blind Ambition™, Chad tackles obstacles as opportunities. He became the first blind executive to graduate from the Harvard leadership program, and developed software to do what Oracle said couldn't be done. Now Chad teaches that same overcomer mindset to teams worldwide, and inspires people to overcome their own blind spots by transforming adversity into advantage.

WHAT MAKES CHAD DIFFERENT

Due to Chad's firsthand experience with personal difficulty and building enterprise value, Chad understands the anatomy of resilience at a practical level — providing tried and tested tools that empower people to emerge from setbacks stronger, sleeker, and resolute to succeed.

Connecting inspiration to implementation™, Chad enables your team to embody the mindsets and beliefs for success, while adopting the narratives and stories that will change the meaning of the challenges they experience.
