

Travel Requirements

I travel non-stop business class (I am 6'3" tall) from Washington, D.C., either Reagan National Airport (DCA) or Dulles International Airport (IAD). I always arrive in the event city at least one day prior, and prefer accommodations in the same hotel as the event.

Fees:

17.5K U.S. & Canada + business airfare (fewest stops possible) + two hotel night accommodations and all ground transportation.

20K Europe and Central/South America + business airfare (fewest stops possible) + three hotel night accommodations and all ground transportation.

25K for Asia, Middle East, and Africa + business airfare (fewest stops possible) + four hotel night accommodations and all ground transportation.

A/V Technical Requirements:

PowerPoint presentation, either forwarded to client via Dropbox prior to the event, or uploaded onto A/V equipment via USB drive the day prior to the event. I use a lavalier microphone, a wireless laser pointer, and a courtesy monitor – and no lecterns.

Taping of speeches:

Clients may record the presentation for internal use only, and may use excerpts and photos from the presentation to be used as part of a “highlight” review of events. No recording may be made publicly available on the Internet or sold commercially on any recorded media without Sitilides’ formal approval.
