

Mark Mathews has made a career out of tracking and chasing down massive storm swells in a bid to ride the biggest waves that planet earth has to offer. In the process mark has won 3 Oakley Big Wave Awards and is now regarded as one of the worlds best big-wave surfers. He's here today to speak to us about his career and what it takes to find success as a professional big wave surfer. Before he comes up on stage lets watch some footage of him in action.....