

Lt Col (ret) Jason O. Harris understands the crucial importance of trust. For over 25+ years, he has flown thousands of flights as a US Air Force pilot and commercial airline pilot. Whether flying cargo and personnel into enemy territory or travelers to Paris, every single flight has required absolute trust between him and his crew. It's a lesson that's been reinforced mission after mission, flight after flight: Trust your people like your life depends upon it.

But Jason doesn't just understand the importance of trust; he knows how to build it—through a culture of deep commitment, accountability, and empowerment.

As a Squadron Commander and Instructor at the US Air Force Academy, he discovered the principles behind the trust he experienced in the cockpit. As he implemented those principles in his squadron, he saw trust skyrocket, performance improve, and engagement increase.

Today he shares these principles through keynotes, training, and video courses with organizations ready to move beyond average and empower their leaders and teams with NO FAIL TRUST®.

KEYNOTES

No Fail Trust®

The Flight Plan To Cultivating a High-Performance Team

No Fail Trust® and the Future of Work

Empowering Remote and Hybrid Teams for Peak Performance

TRAININGS

Training Options Include:

In-Person, Virtual, or Video Series
Half Day or Multi-Day
Offsite Retreats

No Fail Trust® Workshop

Building High-Performance Teams

Leading with C.A.R.G.O:

How to Protect and Empower Your Most Precious Asset—Your People*

CATERPILLAR®

INDIANA
CONSTRUCTORS

Abbott

LOCKHEED MARTIN®

Ford

conEdison

CISCO

Fidelity

