ABOUT PATRICE

HEYOKA EMPATH HEALER | RELATIONSHIP COACH

Patrice D'Evans, born and raised in New York City (Washington Heights) is a Heyoka Empath which is the rarest and highest level empath. She uses all of her giftings to heal and transform lives - body, mind, and spirit. She is a professional dancer, actress, producer, master-certified teacher turned relationship coach, and author. Patrice has been a certified dance-fitness instructor, personal trainer, and the owner/founder of her dance fitness program, Saka® Dance-Fitness (now a non-profit organization Saka Core Fit LLC) for over thirteen years.

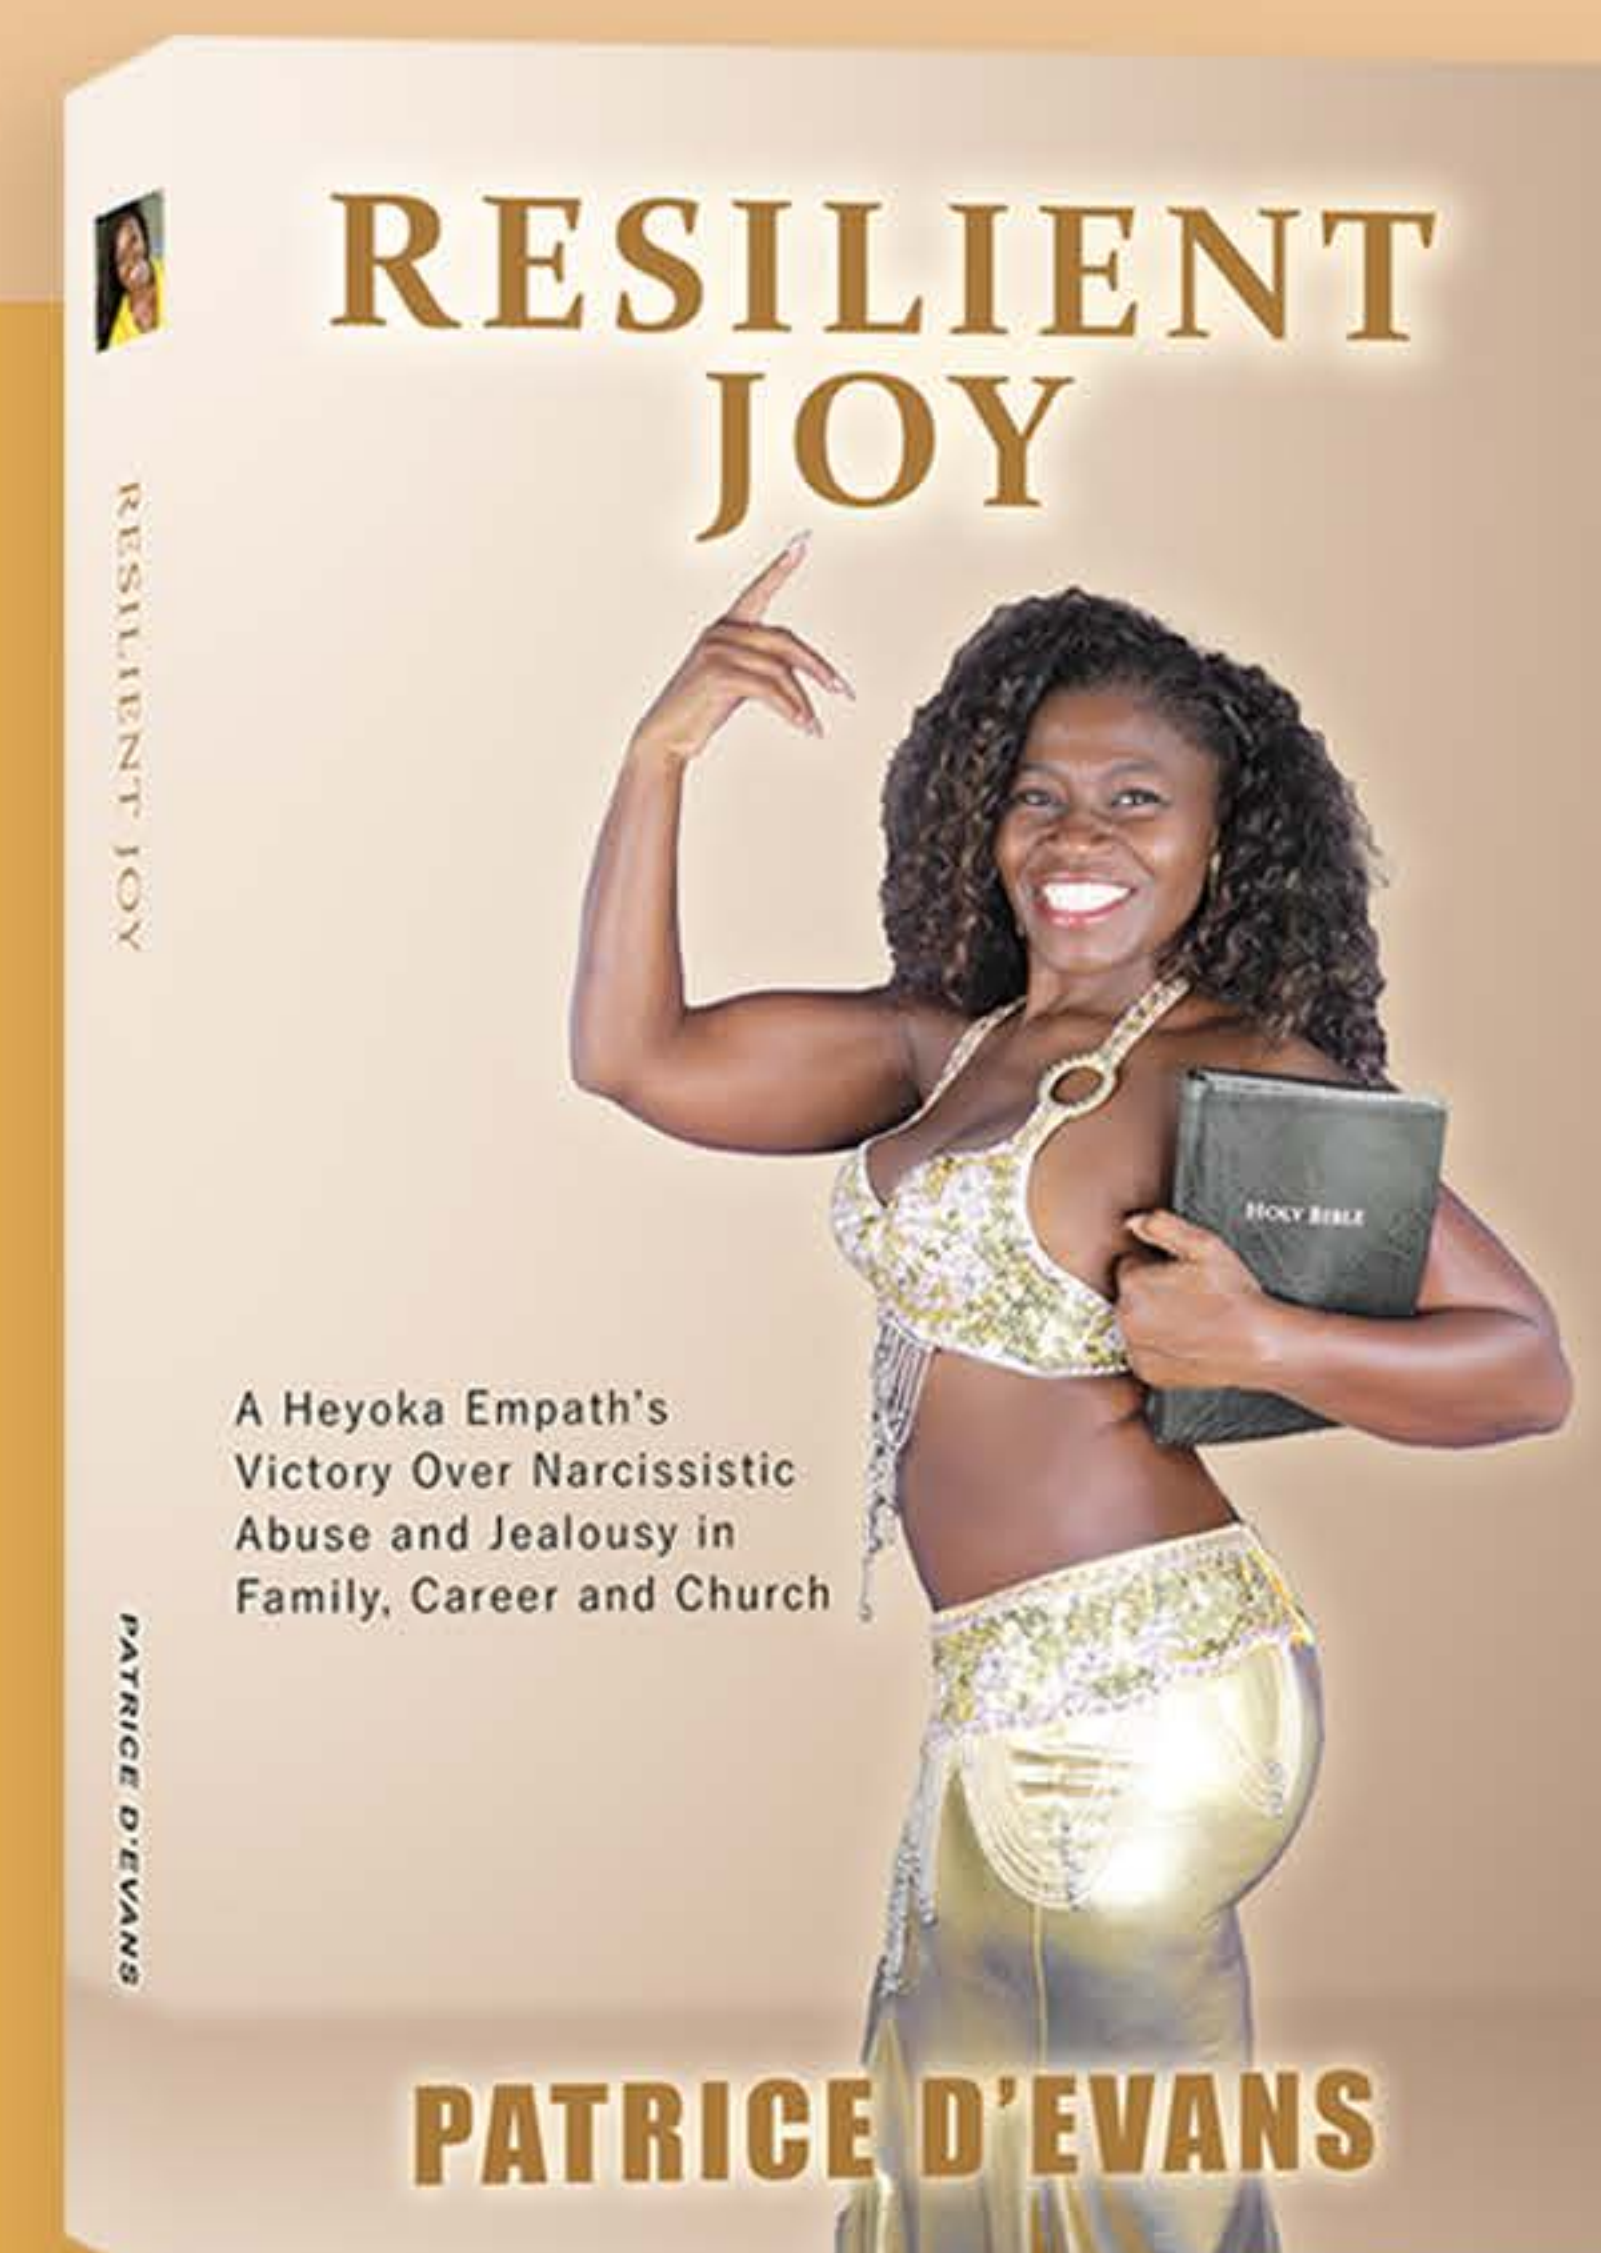

Since 2009, Patrice has been led to help heal women - body, mind, and spirit, unlock their joy, and have a healthy balance of spirituality and sensuality to live in their power through dance. Patrice soon realized it was a ministry led by the Lord. She began to help women all over the world with her YouTube ministry J.O.Y. Party TV (now a young adult ministry) and Belly Dance Fit with Patrice on her channel: Patrice D'Evans. Her subscribers call her "The Minister of Joy." Patrice uses all that she knows about women to help men understand how to attract the right woman.

Today, Patrice, the Heyoka Empath healer, and communications expert, uses her story and all of these gifts: her spiritual gifts of healing as a Heyoka Empath, professional dancing, master teaching ability, character development skills, and holistic fitness approach as a relationship coach. She helps single, empathic, traditional, successful young Christian men (25-32) who want to marry, heal from past toxic relationships, and develop communication and relationship skills to attract the right empathic woman for a healthy lasting marriage. This is accomplished through her course: Attract the Right Woman Method.
