Summary

I am an experienced and award-winning fundraiser and business owner. I started my company Denali FSP Fundraising and Grant Consultants in 2014. It is a fundraising consulting firm that emphasizes best practices sustainable multichannel fundraising for nonprofits. I have worked with all types of nonprofits including educational, social services and environmental and I teach and train nonprofits to achieve sustainable fundraising results from multiple sources with an emphasis on individual giving.

I also do trainings and seminars to groups and organizations about fundraising such as direct mail, online/digital fundraising, annual campaigns, self-esteem, and success principles. In addition, I assist nonprofits in board development, major gifts, capital campaigns, foundation, and government/foundation grants. I remain passionate about bringing order from disorder, achieving measurable results from set goals and the use of analytics and data to achieve sustainable fundraising.
