Meet Paula Houlihan

Award-Winning Presenter | Executive Coach | Retreat Leader

As a corporate senior claims specialist in the insurance industry, Paula Houlihan negotiated multimillion-dollar litigation cases. She was successful.

Like many high performers, she worked hard to achieve and maintain her success. She had it all ... except the time and energy to enjoy it. Like most, she accepted demanding schedules and stress as part of being successful.

But it wasn't until receiving a life-changing medical diagnosis that she realized the stress of success was slowly killing her. Something had to change.

Recognizing the power that choice had in her life, Paula began a journey of discovering she didn't have to cheat on her success to have a love affair with her life.

And, now through transformational presentations, coaching, workshops and retreats, she helps high performers discover her Choice Management® Model which empowers them to take the stress out of success, and:

- ✓ Reclaim their time
- ✓ Restore their energy
- ✓ Rejuvenate relationships, and
- ✓ Enjoy their incredible lives every day
