

Deborah A. Leben

*Motivational Speaker * Executive Career Coach * Leadership Consultant*

Deborah is an Executive Career Coach with 32 years at the U.S. Secret Service, including 25+ years in leadership across government and nonprofits. Passionate about helping professionals pursue fulfilling careers, she believes that work can be more than just a paycheck—but a clear connection to your ‘why,’ turning everyday work into a purposeful journey.

Throughout her career in forensic science, Deborah loved every aspect of the work. She met many professionals that felt stuck in their position and were searching for deeper fulfillment. This inspired her to coach individuals and teams, helping them identify strengths, set goals, and create a career path that is not only meaningful, but giving them an active seat and voice at the table.

Deborah’s mission is to help individuals and teams discover their strengths, align their careers with their purpose, and create meaningful impact in their work. Her goal is to equip people with the confidence, clarity, and tools to build careers they love and thrive in.
