

WAMBUI BAHATI

STORYTELLER • ACTRESS • SPEAKER

I AM DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

I AM DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

A one-woman performance that makes domestic violence impossible to look away from — and impossible to forget.

Since 1998 • Still in Demand

ABOUT THE PERFORMANCE

Created in 1998 at the request of a YWCA for their "A Week Without Violence" campaign, I Am Domestic Violence was designed as a one-time event. Word-of-mouth spread quickly. More than two decades later, the show is still in demand. Through immersive scenes and multiple characters embodied by a single performer, it makes domestic violence impossible to ignore — and impossible to forget.

IDEAL FOR

- ✓ Domestic violence organizations & shelters
- ✓ Women's conferences & luncheons
- ✓ Colleges & universities
- ✓ Employee assistance programs
- ✓ Faith communities & churches
- ✓ Corporate awareness programs
- ✓ High schools & educational groups
- ✓ Speaker series & civic organizations

AUDIENCES LOVE WAMBUI FOR

- ★ Multiple characters portrayed by one performer — simultaneously
- ★ Humor that makes the hardest truths feel human and accessible
- ★ Authentic storytelling drawn from lived experience
- ★ Ability to educate without ever lecturing
- ★ 50+ years of commanding stage presence

• Q&A and Ten Warning Signs workshop available

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Wambui Bahati is a captivating performer with over 50 years of experience in theater and public speaking. A survivor of domestic abuse, she uses her life lessons and lived wisdom to educate and inspire through powerful, unforgettable performances — across the United States and internationally.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

"Your performance at Edith Cowan University in Joondalup was sensational and received very positive feedback from stakeholders and attendees."

— Edith, Board Member, Cowan University, Australia

"She did an amazing job distinguishing between characters — humorous yet

AVAILABLE FOR • WOMEN'S CONFERENCES • SCHOOLS • UNIVERSITIES • CORPORATIONS • FAITH COMMUNITIES • COMMUNITY EVENTS

BOOK WAMBUI BAHATI

Call or Text: (212) 287-9640 • Wambui-Bahati.com

"Professional, reliable, and ready to create memories your event team will love."