

Dwayne Whitehead, Ph.D.

Think • Communicate • Educate

Dr. Dwayne is a global thinker, communicator, and educator with a passion for transforming lives through the power of leadership. He and his wife, Cheryl, are the Lead Pastors of Destiny Global Church in Richmond, VA. The Whiteheads are a leadership resource to leaders in various sectors around the world. Dr. Dwayne's reach spans the arts, education, business and finance, government, and religion.

Dr. Dwayne is an accomplished singer and performer. He's shared the stage with artists such as Lalah Hathaway, William Murphy, Ron Kenoly, Eric Roberson, Shirley Ceasar, and more. He's a staple in Broadway, gospel music stage plays, and landed the starring role in the film, "The Biography of Johnny Youngblood."

Dr. Dwayne is a gifted, provocative, and inspiring communicator. He delivers a message of empowerment and action. Dr. Dwayne has been seen on television stations including TBN, The Word Network, CBS, NBC, and more. He is the former host of the digital talk show "Millennial Moments." He's also the author of the bestselling book, "I Learned the Hard Way- A Guide to Money Management," and other books.

Dr. Dwayne is the President of The Whitehead Group. TWG is a for-profit initiative that offers leadership resources to leaders, teams, and organizations. His academic studies include theology, business, and theatre performance. He holds an earned doctorate in education from St. Thomas University in Miami Gardens, Florida. The Whiteheads are the proud parents of five.

Key Areas of Expertise

- Leadership
- Written Communication
- Theatre Performance Coaching
- Community Engagement
- Public Speaking
- Training and Development
- Sales Leadership & Coaching
- Financial Planning

Certifications & Licenses

Life, Health,
Accident Insurance
License

NMLS License

Speaker, Coach,
DISC Trainer,
Behavioral Consultant

Christian Counselor

Transformation
Academy
Life Coach

Global Leadership
Certification

Life Coach