

Hello, I'm

Leila Kubesch

KEYNOTE | STORYTELLER |

Let's work together!

Leila Kubesch is a National Teachers Hall of Fame inductee and a recognized thought leader in building partnerships that drive collective success. With three decades devoted to researching how to foster collaboration and enlist support through strategic alliances, Leila's insights have transformed outcomes for organizations, teams, and communities across sectors.

Her proven approach—rooted in intentional collaboration, appreciation, and trust—has shaped stronger workplaces, energized leadership teams, and sparked lasting community impact. Through compelling visuals and real-world examples, she illustrates how strategic connections elevate both individual achievement and collective progress.

A dynamic speaker, Leila weaves storytelling, humor, and audience engagement to captivate and inspire. Whether in a boardroom, a healthcare symposium, an educational summit, or a leadership retreat, she equips attendees with practical tools to strengthen their networks. With her camera in hand, she also invites participants to capture a visual pledge to her 3 Cs: Communicate, Connect, and Collaborate—creating both a memory and a movement.

3 C'S:
COMMUNICATE,
CONNECT,
& COLLABORATE

Mission Statement:

My mission is to inspire and empower professionals by sharing proven strategies that elevate outcomes, drive personal and professional growth, and create a ripple effect of positive change across teams and organizations.

Vision Statement:

I envision a world where workplaces are catalysts for boundless success. I see teams and organizations thriving through the transformative power of partnership, appreciation, and the 3 Cs: Communicate, Connect, and Collaborate. As a dedicated advocate for these principles, I strive to create a movement where everyone is supported, inspired, and equipped to make a meaningful impact. Together, we're building a future where success is not just attainable; it's inevitable.

"Leila captivated a diverse audience of young scholarship recipients, their parents and guardians, corporate donors, educators, the advisory board and others. Her message was clear, concise, passionate and challenging."

Samuel D. Rowe, Jr.
English Language Learners Foundation, Board Member

"I heard Leila speak at NSA Kentucky, her keynote was both Enlightening and inspiring and I only hope as I develop my own, I'm able to leave my audience with the same impression."

Angela Billings, MBA, APR
