BASF - ECMS Integration CEO & Top 140 Leaders

BASF is merging two Catalyst focused businesses into one with more freedom for potential spin off. Chris worked with the CEO and team to help design the event and integrate his opening keynote to inspire action. His focus was on leading to create a culture of high performance integration via Entrepreneurial Leadership.

Feedback - HR Director, Andrea McCarthy –

"Thanks for your wonderful keynote to open our critical SPARK event. It set the perfect tone, helping us become more entrepreneurial and committing us to actions to move forwards. Your help planning the event was really valuable. Thanks for all your hard work and inspiration."

AI & HI (Human Intelligence) 30 senior HR Directors

At a special event hosted in the 2 Michelin star restaurant in the Cafe Royal, London, Chris spoke before dinner on the challenges for HR leaders implementing AI effectively.

His focus was that AI needs HI (Human Intelligence) to work and HI needs more development for AI to be implemented and for organisations to be more successful.

Feedback - event organisers – "We welcomed HR leaders for a great discussion on the key role of HI (human intelligence) to drive success. Thanks to brilliant speaker Chris Roebuck."

KPMG Potential Partners 50 Potential Partners across Scandinavia - virtual

"Dare to Lead" Chris virtual leadership keynote for potential KPMG Partners across Scandinavia and Northern Europe set out how new Partners could go up a gear in human interaction and strategic alignment.

Feedback - Head of People & Culture, Leif Waller –

"Thanks for your inspiring keynote, very well received by our participants, much appreciated! Plenty of take aways when we asked they got from your keynote. It's been a pleasure working with you!"

Leading for Schools 150 Primary School Headteachers

Leading a school with potentially hundreds of children and over 30 staff trying to give children a good start in life is a challenge - especially if no one has taught you about leadership ! Chris started them on the journey....and they now want more ! A really fun audience of dedicated professionals.

Feedback - Event Organisers – Oldham Alliance of Primary School Headteachers "Chris was great, he brought his experience from the business world into schools and adapted the presentation to our audience in a very skillful way."
