

CALEB GARDNER

BIOGRAPHY

Caleb Gardner is a speaker, author, entrepreneur, and global expert in technology, politics, and change management, who helps leaders navigate disruption and lead through uncertainty.

After leading digital strategy for President Barack Obama—growing the @BarackObama Twitter account to the most followed worldwide—Caleb co-founded 18 Coffees, a strategy and transformation consulting firm. As managing partner, Caleb uses his 20+ years of experience with global clients like Comcast, Bose Corporation, Sirius XM, and United Way Worldwide to help leaders worldwide transform their companies in the face of uncertainty and change.

Companies come to Caleb paralyzed by uncertainty and desperate for change. Their audiences leave inspired, uplifted, and ready to lead with confidence. Caleb works hard to make each keynote accessible and meaningful to everyone in the audience, no matter their title.

His book, No Point B: Rules for Leading Change in the New Hyper-Connected, Radically Conscious Economy, has been called "a roadmap and a reckoning," and "a vital and engaging recipe for embracing change."
